

Sinclair Broadcast Group's recent actions have shown courage. I admire them deeply. So many of our media outlets are being driven by personal feelings and desires that they no longer provide us with the news.

They do not give us all the facts and let us make up our own minds. A few years back this was called propaganda and we felt sorry for people who lived in those countries. Today it is happening in America.

Thank You Sinclair Broadcasting for having the courage to tell the other side of the story that has been geing hidden from America.
